New York Institution.

[Extracts from the ANNUAL REPORT.]

THE New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb was chartered in the year 1817. It was opened in May, 1818. It is the first Military School for the Deaf in the world. It is a free school for all deaf children of the State. The total number of pupils who have received instruction during the one hundred and five years since its organization is 5061.

Every known instrument or aid which is of value in their education is used. Speech and speech reading are taught to all. Education of the ear where there is a remnant of hearing. A course of study equivalent to that of common schools and academies. A mechanical trade is given to each pupil. Classes in looking and millinery for the pupils. Thorough instruction in all departments of Art a special feature of this Institution. A completely equipped Gymnasium under the supervision of Physical Directors has been provided. Classes in Band and Field Music. Military Drill for the boys.

The Institution is delightfully situated on a high bank overlooking the Hudson, from 163d to 165th Streets and Riverside Drive. The entrance to the grounds is at Fort Washington Avenue and West 163d Street.

All correspondence regarding the admission of pupils should be addressed to Principal, Isaac B. Gardner, M.A.

The number of pupils during the year were 428, of whom 269 were boys and 159 girls.

Of the above number 225 are registered as congenitally deaf. Those becoming deaf from sickness numbered 182 at five years of age and under. This leaves only 21 cases of loss of hearing (five from unknown causes) after the age of five years.

The above is a summary of the tables of ages and causes of deafness compiled by the Principal and stated in detail in his report. He continues:—

The records and illustrations presented in this report are arranged to reflect as completely as may be the varied activities of the school, and in the absence of any special departure from the regular curriculum and course of procedure during the period under review, extended comment would appear to be unnecessary.

These special schools are designed and organized to provide adequate facilities for the proper instruction of a group of exceptional children, handicapped to some degree by conditions which do not admit of their receiving an education in the public schools for those possessing normal hearing and speech. An exceedingly wide variation in the kind and extent of this handicap necessitates a large number of activities, each designed to furnish directly or to contribute indirectly toward the means whereby all the members of the group may be enabled to minimize their handicap to an extent that will bring them into intelligible communication with normally conditioned persons, provide them with a means of earning a livelihood, of exercising the privileges and assuming the responsibilities of citizenship, and of enjoying the benefits of intelligent and useful service under the same conditions that surround their hearing brothers and sisters.

Our experience has abundantly proved that where such a purpose is diligently pursued it brings forth an exceptionally large percentage of successful young men and women, and it must therefore follow that no separate activity or department of the work can be given credit for the whole accomplishment. It must likewise follow that the standard of attainment required in any one department should not be accepted as the measure of development attained by an individual who is active in several departments. The relative values of the work of each department differ according to capabilities and the needs of the individual, and the real test of the benefits derived from the instruction given is indicated in the pupil's response to the query "What can you do?" far better than by his response to the question most frequently asked, "Can you do this?"

As evidencing the adequacy of the system in use here, it is worthy of mention that a boy not quite 20 years of age, freshly landed from Russia 15 years ago, born totally deaf, wholly uneducated and with no knowledge of any language, was graduated from our High School Course in June last with the highest rank in his class, with a proficiency in industrial ability that insures his independence, and with the insignia of officer in the military battalion.

FANWOOD LITERARY ASSOCIATION.

As a part of the home life of the school, there are many pleasant social gatherings at which pupils are trained in the amenities of social intercourse. Among these the fortnightly meetings of the Fanwood Literary Association offers an opportunity for the cultivation of a literary taste and the employment of the information received in the classroom. The Association is a body in which the Principal, Professors and Teachers, unite with the pupils in literary exercises on Thursday evenings—the privilege being allowed to pupils in the classes included between the fifth and academic grades. In the main, the programs for these meetings are prepared by the pupils, and the meetings are presided over by pupil-officers, with the supervision of the Principal. In the past year the programs include 6 Essays, 10 Dialogues, 8 Debates, 9 Readings, 2 Entertainments, and weekly digest of current news. The contribution of the teaching staff embraced lectures on the following subjects:—

"Unemployment."
"Meaning of Armistice Day."
"The Disarmament Conference."
"Japan at the Conference."
"Tibet and the Conquest of Mt. Everest."
"The Value of Thinking."

THE LIBRARY.

Of the various means employed in bringing the pupils to a clear comprehension and enjoyment of correct English, no one method is superior to that which leads to the ability to read understandingly, and to the application of what has been read. This is one of the special aims of the classroom work in teaching our children, the fundamental principle, as affording them a certain vehicle for immediate and permanent service in obtaining information, and permitting a free and clear communication with others.

The value and necessity of a well-chosen collection of suitable reading matter for growing minds, and which can be used as an adjunct to classroom text books, needs no emphasis. Our Pupils' Library has now 4031 volumes, which cover works on adventure, biography, travel, science, and plenty of choice, clean fiction. We endeavor to lead the children to understand and to appreciate the importance of systematic reading, as a means of building up a command of language and as a help to the instruction they receive from the daily classroom exercises.

TRADES TEACHING.

Thirty-eight pupils were assigned to the classes in Printing; the estimated value of their work amounted to $3,750 50. The classes in Carpentry and Cabinetmaking included sixty-eight pupils; the value of the work was $1,570 25. Twenty-seven pupils in the classes of House Painting, Sign Writing and Glazing, completed work to an estimated value of $5,500. Seventy girls formed the classes in Dressmaking, Plain Sewing, Fancy Sewing, Knitting.

Directed by Miss Whittaker.

a. Planting the Seeds, illustrating the song.

"Take a little seed so hard and round;
Make a little hole right in the ground;
Put the seed into it, cover it with care;
Who would ever think a seed was there?
Will it ever leave the earth so brown—
Wait and watch it closely when the rain comes down."

b. The Flowers, illustrating the song.

"Grow, grow, grow little flowers, grow.
Grow, grow, somebody wants you so.
I shall come again tomorrow morn and see,
And if you grow bigger you will just suit me.
So grow, grow, grow, little flowers, grow."

(The paper flowers used in this exercise were made by the children of the Montessori classes.)

is very attractive as a help to lessen sufferings of foreign countries and to bring true friendship and fair justice to all countries.

We see that there is much unrest in the world. Some strange forms of government exist. They are dangerous. They do not lead to unite friendship with other countries, and they urge disregard for common law. The friendship of such governments is not helpful to America. But there are other nations with which the United States wishes to retain good relations.

The proposed World Court would have a great opportunity to correct wrong conditions and make them right. That would benefit governments and peoples over the world. It would teach them to seek for the right, and for fair justice to all. The world needs some such court to prevent wars.

7. Graduating Essay with Valedictory Address, Lester Cahill.

FRIENDSHIP AND JUSTICE.

Since the World War, some of the countries in Europe have begun to open their ears and to listen to our country's views on all subjects. They have also been waiting for some kind of agreement with the United States which would help to lessen present troubles in Europe. They hope that we may join the League of Nations and the World Court, it seems that American public opinion is not yet fully formed on this.

The idea of the League of Nations and of the World Court

With a kind and just understanding among governments, all will be right and justice will prevail.

VALEDICTORY

To the members of the Board of Directors: The Graduating Class of 1923 wishes to thank you for your generosity in affording us the opportunity for an education and a vocational training. We came as helpless children; we leave to become, we expect, useful citizens.

This Institution has reached a standard that offers a fine model for other schools. Much of this is due to your wise management. We have profited by your instruction and look forward to "Success." In saying good bye to you, we give you our sincere thanks.

To our beloved Principal, teachers and officers: We cannot tell you in words how deeply we thank you for many acts of kindness, patience, and helpfulness in the years of our education and training. You have ever cherished and encouraged our efforts for good. It is indeed wonderful that you have shown such patience with us, and always have been ready with advice, cheerfulness and hope, in correcting our shortcomings. This has left a useful impression on us which will accompany us through life. We hope that it will be our good fortune, as a result of your care, that we will get along well in our lives in the world. We shall never forget you, dear Principal, professors, teachers and friends, nor what you have done for us. We are proud of having been under your instruction. While we regret that we are going to leave this Institution, still we have confidence, as we know that you have prepared us well. We will return here no more as pupils, so we now bid a loving farewell to you all, and to our dear Alma Mater.

To the Graduating Class: We have been inseparable in this Institution for many years. We are about to go our different ways in the world. Soon we will enter upon life anew and pay attention to our work for a living. Do not be discouraged if you do not succeed at once. Be economical and careful when you do meet with success. Above all, keep up the old, old loyalty to Fanwood, to its teachings and to all that they mean for us.

VI. "America," recited in signs by the Choir and sung by the audience.

My country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died!
Land of the Pilgrim's pride!
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free—
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills,
Like that above.

Our fathers' God! to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

The Class Ivy.

THE CLASS IVY was dedicated on Thursday afternoon, June 7th, at three o'clock.

The graduates filed into Principal Gardner's office to receive greetings and a few words of advice at the farewell period of their instruction at Fanwood. As the ivy procession emerged from the entrance to the Main Building, the Battalion, which was lined up on the terrace, at the command of Captain Altenderfer, came to "Present Arms."

much pain as pleasure in trying to win our way by our own efforts.

We thank you for your helpful care in the many years of our stay here, dear Principal, teachers and officers, and we shall always keep in mind what we owe you.

Fellow-Graduates: We must remember our class motto, "Strive and Succeed;" that means for us especially to try to succeed. As we go out in the world, we must try and succeed in business or whatever we do for a living.

If we do our best to follow its teachings, then this Institution will be proud of us. You know this Institution is indeed the best model for deaf schools and it is a successful one. Well! You must try to do as our school has done—win by deserving to win.

Let us work to bring honor and glory to Old Fanwood, our beloved Alma Mater. I bid you all Farewell.

Addresses were made by Principal Gardner, Dr. Fox, Profs. Jones, Thomason, and Iles.

Almost immediately after the ceremonies had been concluded, there was a terrific downpour of rain.

Notes

The Baccalaureate Sermon was preached by Rev. Harold L. Creager, of the Church of Our Saviour (Evangelical Lutheran), 513 West 179th Street, on Sunday, June 10th. The customary influx of visitors, and graduates of other years, lent additional animation to the occasion.

The Protean Society (Cadet Officers) held its annual outing on Monday, June 4th. The members wore the Fanwood colors (buff and blue) and were attired in uniform coat and white trousers. Their destination was Brighton Beach, Coney Island, and the trip both ways was by a chartered autobus.

The Adrasian Society (girls) had their annual gala day on Monday, June 4th, enjoying a most delightful sail up the Hudson River to Bear Mountain.

South California.

Attention Cal. News: Daniel Robles was not born deaf. He was sent to the State School for the Deaf by his parents for the free board and lodging. He was so backward and silent he impressed all as deaf and dumb. But later the true state of affairs was revealed. He later went to the public schools with the children of deaf parents near Santa Barbara. His mother used to shout, "Dan-y e-l-l" after him. I know he can hear, for I lived with him six weeks. It was his older brother, who was deaf and dumb, who was at the State School for the Deaf a longer time. He was killed while resisting arrest for a crime he did not commit. One sister, Louise, is also deaf and dumb, and was at the State School the full course. This is straight.

The L. S. D. C. gave a playlet, directed by Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Saturday last. It was something of a satire on college life. Although the rehearsal was just before the actual show, it turned out very well. Amateur theatricals show the deaf do act very well in the great majority of the cases. Those who give their time and mind to their acting, make hits. It is hoped more such entertainments will be given in the future.

There are two deaf pugilists exhibiting in Los Angeles. One is Weller, from Chicago. I don't know how good.

Granville Redmond, who has a studio down town in Los Angeles, when he is not working in the movies at the Charles Chaplin Studio, has arrived, it seems. At least his California landscape studies are being used in a souvenir folder of California selling for twenty-five cents. THRO. C. MULLER.

CHINA

The American Presbyterian Mission at Chefoo, China, sends out the following, under date of April, 1923:—

To the Friends of the Charles Rogers Mills School for the Deaf:—We wish to inform you that Mrs. A. T. Mills, the founder and Principal of the School, is retiring from active service, as she will reach the mission retiring age of 70 years on July 20th of this year.

In view of this event and the long service and activities of Mrs. Mills in connection with the school, the Chefoo Station is presenting to the Mission the following resolution of appreciation:—

"As the artist who has completed his picture puts up his palette, and the writer who has written Finis to the manuscript upon which he has labored long, lays down his pen with satisfaction; so to the members of the Mission, who having fulfilled their period of service, relinquish their tools, there must come feelings of deep gratification. Especially is this so when they can see as a result of their labors an institution founded, housed, and equipped to carry on the ideas for which they have struggled and prayed.

Mrs. A. T. Mills during her thirty-eight years of residence in China has rendered a unique contribution to the Kingdom in her service to the deaf and her efforts for their education. She was the pioneer in this work. Believing in it with all her soul, she has by her devotion made others believe in it too, until today the School for the Deaf stand the embodiment of the beautiful thought of care for the afflicted and an unanswerable argument for the love of Christ.

For many years Mrs. Mills was compelled to carry on the work without the help of the Board. She did not falter, however, but showed vision and courage and faith far beyond the ordinary. The fact the School for the Deaf is so beautifully located and so well provided with land, residences, and school buildings, is pre-eminently due to the abundant labors of its founder.

Now that her work is completed and it is necessary for her to withdraw from the institution which she has fostered so many years, the station desires to pay its tribute to her long, painstaking devotion to the interests so near to her heart, and to the Saviour's heart, and to wish Mrs. Mills, in life's well-earned evening after toil, many years of peace and joy."

The school will continue to go on under the efficient charge of Miss A. E. Carter, who has been associated with Mrs. Mills for many years and who has been the vice-president of the school.

The school continues to look to its many friends for their interest and support toward which its generous friends have contributed about one half of the funds needed, the other half being provided by the yearly interest accruing from the partial endowment which Mrs. Mills secured some years ago.

It will be convenient to have all cheques for gifts made out to the Treasurer of the School for the Deaf, or to the Station Treasurer, American Presbyterian Mission.

ASK YOUR BANKER FIRST.

When ever you are solicited to purchase stock or other securities, under no circumstances should you invest a single dollar without first consulting with the office of a Banking Institution. They will gladly welcome the opportunity to advise you in reference to any of your investment positions.

Don't risk your money in a stock scheme which may vanish over night and leave you discouraged and perhaps penniless.

BEFORE YOU INVEST—INVESTIGATE.
It will cost you nothing! It may save you from serious loss!
